

Right side of the Concertina

Air

Thumb strap

Finger rest

Musical notation includes notes on treble clefs with various accidentals (sharps, flats) and circled letters (A, B, C, D, E, F, G) indicating fingerings for specific notes.
